How To Run It

ADVANCED

How To Use The Print Log

- Train three days per week. Keep at least one rest day between heavy barbell sessions when possible.
- Write your actual load and reps in the blank set boxes. Use the Notes column for percent work, rest, and substitutions.
- Later, enter the session in Sundee Fundee so the app can retain your history and help you plan the next session.

60-Minute Session Flow

- 10 min warm-up: raise temperature, then ramp to your first working set.
- 40 min strength: log each set in the blank boxes. Rest fully on the main lift.
- 10 min accessories + cool-down: keep quality high, stop before bar speed or form slips.

Why Log It In The App?

The PDF is your field notebook. Sundee Fundee is your training record: it tracks progress, remembers loads, and helps you keep decisions conservative when recovery, energy, or soreness changes.

Week 1: Build Work Capacity ADVANCED

Weekly Stimulus

Moderate loads. Crisp reps. Leave 1-3 reps in reserve.

DAY	FOCUS	PRIMARY STIMULUS
Day 1	Squat Focus	Heavy squat work with pulling assistance and strict pressing.
Day 2	Bench Focus	Bench strength with upper-back work and an Olympic-pull variation.
Day 3	Deadlift Focus	Deadlift strength with squat variation and shoulder health work.

Progression

Add 2.5-5 lb when all sets stay crisp. Keep form clean before adding load.

Recovery Rule

If sleep or soreness is off, keep the main lift but drop one accessory exercise.

App Loop

Log the paper notes later so Sundee Fundee can keep your training history organized.

Every workout in this week is different. Repeat the intent, not the exact exercises, unless a substitution fits your body better.

Week 1 Day 1: Squat Focus & Pulling Power

60 MIN

Stimulus

Heavy squat work plus pulling support and strict pressing.

Tips

- Ramp your warm-up sets gradually. Save energy for working sets.
- Rest fully on the main lift. Keep accessories crisp, not exhausting.
- Stop if pain changes mechanics; substitute conservatively.

Substitutions

- Squat: front squat, box squat, or leg press.
- Hinge: Romanian deadlift or hip hinge machine.
- Press: dumbbell overhead press or machine press.
- Row: chest-supported row or cable row.

Week 6 Day 3: Deadlift Focus & Accessory

60 MIN

Stimulus

Deadlift strength plus squat variation and shoulder health work.

Tips

- Ramp your warm-up sets gradually. Save energy for working sets.
- Rest fully on the main lift. Keep accessories crisp, not exhausting.
- Stop if pain changes mechanics; substitute conservatively.

Substitutions

- Deadlift: trap-bar pull, Romanian deadlift, or block pull.
- Olympic pull: clean pull or high pull.
- Squat: pause squat or goblet squat.
- Shoulders: face pull or band pull-aparts.

Week 7: Increase Intensity

ADVANCED

Weekly Stimulus

Heavier doubles and triples. Rest longer. Avoid grinders until test week.

DAY	FOCUS	PRIMARY STIMULUS
Day 1	Squat Focus	Heavy squat work with pulling assistance and strict pressing.
Day 2	Bench Focus	Bench strength with upper-back work and an Olympic-pull variation.
Day 3	Deadlift Focus	Deadlift strength with squat variation and shoulder health work.

Progression

Add load only if bar speed stays high. If a set grinds, hold weight next week.

Recovery Rule

If readiness is low, keep intensity but reduce one set on the main lift.

App Loop

Log the paper notes later so Sundee Fundee can keep your training history organized.

Every workout in this week is different. Repeat the intent, not the exact exercises, unless a substitution fits your body better.

Week 8: Deload And Test

ADVANCED

Weekly Stimulus

Reduce fatigue early in the week, then test clean singles with long rests.

DAY	FOCUS	PRIMARY STIMULUS
Day 1	Squat Focus	Heavy squat work with pulling assistance and strict pressing.
Day 2	Bench Focus	Bench strength with upper-back work and an Olympic-pull variation.
Day 3	Testing	Deload early, then test clean singles with long rests.

Progression

Deload Days 1-2 should feel easy. Testing day uses small jumps and long rests.

Recovery Rule

If anything hurts or technique changes, end the test and record the best clean single.

App Loop

Log the paper notes later so Sundee Fundee can keep your training history organized.
